

MIDTERM TEST LISTENING SCRIPT

- Jenny: So, Kevin, what do you want to eat for dinner?
- Kevin: Let's go to the Mexican restaurant on the corner of our street.
- Jenny: Not tonight. My lunch yesterday was Mexican food. Do you like Chinese food?
- Kevin: I like Chinese food, but there isn't a good Chinese restaurant near here.
- Jenny: Oh yea. Our favorite Chinese restaurant is in another neighborhood. Hmm (pause). What about Japanese food?
- Kevin: The one on Fourth Street?
- Jenny: Yea, that one. It's really good, right?
- Kevin: Yes, but it's really expensive. (pause) I know. Let's get fast food. It's closer and cheaper than the other restaurants. There's a place... (cut off by Jenny)
- Jenny: Kevin, I don't want fast food. How about the new restaurant on our street? It's called Emma's. It's next to our building.
- Kevin: The fast food place is also next to our building. What do they serve there?
- Jenny: I think they have good salads and sandwiches. Lots of healthy things. It's better than fast food.
- Kevin: OK, that sounds good. They're open, right?
- Jenny: Yep. Do you want me to call before we go?
- Kevin: No. It's OK. I need money though. First, let's go to the bank, then the restaurant.
- Jenny: That's a good idea. You can get money and pay for me!
- Kevin: Ehh, I don't like that idea.
