READINGPART 3*Read the article. Then choose the correct answers.

Today, my friend is celebrating her son's birthday. He is turning ten years old. The party is at a park. The guests are smiling and laughing. I see many children. They are playing games and having fun on the playground. Some girls are wearing nice dresses. Only the birthday boy is wearing a suit and tie.

I also see a father and his baby. The father is standing and holding the baby. The baby is sleeping. The mother is helping the children get food. She is giving them plates, forks and napkins. They are waiting in line for sandwiches and cake. The children are not drinking juice because the parents are saying, "Drink milk or water. It has less sugar."

The party is ending now. People are saying goodbye. The birthday boy is thanking his friends for coming to his party. He wants to open the gifts, but his mother says he must wait. The father is putting the presents in the car. He tells his son, "We're going to grandma and grandpa's house now. They have a surprise for you." The boy is smiling because he loves to visit his grandparents.
