Are you a smart shopper? When is the last time you went to the mall in order (1) _____ (buy) a sweater, look for gifts, or (2) _____ (eat) lunch? If you do these things regularly, you're wasting your money. Smart shoppers prefer not to spend more money than necessary. I quit going to malls because the stores there charge way too much. I'm too poor (3) _____ (shop) at the mall, and I work too hard (4) _____ (waste) my money this way. I've learned that it's OK to shop at thrift stores first in order (5) _____ (not / pay) more money than necessary. I believe in looking nice and fashionable, but not if I have to spend all my money (6) _____ (do) it. For instance, I needed to buy a dress, and I found one for $70 at the mall. I regretted buying it the very next day when I found an even nicer dress at a thrift store for $10. If you are rich enough (7) _____ (buy) things without going into debt, go right ahead. After all, smart shoppers like us need you (8) _____ (buy) things at full price so that we can have them later for much less.
