Franks: Thanks for tuning in to Food Frenzy on radio 101.5 A.M. I'm your host, Freddy Franks. Today we're talking to Mr. Donovan Epps who is the president of the New Zealand Dairy Alliance. Mr. Epps is in town for the International Cheese Festival. The festival, (1) _____ (which / is hosting / the Park City Convention Center) this week, offers people the chance to taste and purchase cheeses from around the world. The festival also provides a place (2) _____ (cheese manufacturers / where / can sell) large amounts of cheese to suppliers. Welcome, Mr. Epps.

Epps: Thank you for inviting me.

Franks: Can you tell our listeners a little about the dairy industry in New Zealand?

Epps: Sure. Although New Zealand is a country (3) _____ (where / live / many sheep farmers), there are also many dairy farmers. The dairy industry in New Zealand is very large. Waikato is the region (4) _____ (many dairy farmers / work / where).

Franks: Interesting. Now, can you explain the function of the New Zealand Dairy Alliance?

Epps: The New Zealand Dairy Alliance, which processes and sells products made from milk, often helps farmers sell their products abroad.

Franks: What kinds of products?

NAME _____ DATE _____

Epps: Well, we sell a lot of cheese and butter, (5) _____ (we / which / make) most of our money from.

Franks: Why does New Zealand send most of its dairy products to other countries?

Epps: Most New Zealanders (6) _____ (I / who / know) love dairy products. But they cannot consume all the products made in their home country. In fact, it may be interesting to know that the United States is a country (7) _____ (people / where / buy) a lot of New Zealand cheeses. The New Zealand cheese (8) _____ (love / which / I) the most is cheddar. Delicious! We'll be back after this commercial break.
