READINGPART 3*Read the emails. Then choose the correct answers.

Hi, Martin,

Sorry I haven't been in touch, but I've been busy. I'm also so stressed out! Work has been crazy and I'm still taking night classes for my MBA, and I just don't have any time for anything but work and school. Maybe I should've quit my job, or at least gone part-time while I'm taking classes. It's been really tough. Like just yesterday, my boss asked me into her office and started telling me all of these problems that were happening because of me. She said that I should've been more prepared for our last divisional meeting and that I need to find time to focus on my work. When I told her that I'd been busy studying, she said that I should've considered how difficult it is to balance work and school. I did consider it, but it's still hard to do!

But at least school is going well. I find my classes interesting for the most part, and I've been getting good grades, though I should've done better on my last exam for my finance class. Maybe I could've studied harder in undergrad, or even high school, because a lot of it is math, and that's not too easy for me. Otherwise, my other classes aren't too bad.

Not much of a social life on my end. I hope things are going well with you.

Shuo

NAME _____ DATE _____

Hi, Shuo,

I didn't realize you were going through so much. I should have checked on you more often!

I'm glad to hear you're doing well in school, but I worry about how stressed you are. Maybe you should have taken fewer classes? I know it's probably too late now, but consider that for the next semester. I think you should have talked to your boss about going part-time. Could you ask her now? Do you think she'd say yes? I think that would make a huge difference.

As for me, nothing's changed much. I'm still with Blair, Inc. Last month I got an offer from McMullen, but I didn't take it. Too bad! I've realized that I really need a change.

Well, let me know when you have time to get together. It's been too long!

- 1 Martin is most likely Shuo's _____.
 - A friend
 - B coworker
 - C classmate
- 2 Which of the following is true?
 - A Shuo failed her finance exam.
 - B Shuo works part-time at her company.
 - C Shuo's last presentation was not good.
- 3 Which of the following is true about Martin?
 - A He has been in touch with Shuo often.
 - B He doesn't think Shuo should go part-time.
 - C He should have taken the job with McMullen.

SPEAKINGPART 5

Read the following situations. For each situation, give at least two criticisms. Use modals of past advisability in your response.

Situation 1: Karen failed her final exam in her accounting class. She didn't do much of the assigned reading for the class during the semester. The weekend before her test, she went on a trip with her friends to the beach. She tried to study a lot the night before the exam, but it didn't work.

Situation 2: Brent lent money to an acquaintance of his, Kevin. But Kevin hasn't contacted Brent since Brent gave him the money, even though Brent has called him and sent him numerous text messages.

Situation 3: Jeremy went on vacation. Upon returning home, he discovered that his apartment had been broken into and that his computer, TV, and a number of other expensive things had been stolen.

WRITINGPART 6

Imagine a situation in which a close friend or family member had a problem but did not handle it well. What was the problem? How did your friend or family member handle it? What could they have done better? Write 2-3 paragraphs to answer these questions. In the first paragraph(s), describe what happened. In the final paragraph, explain your criticisms.
