READING*PART 3*Read the email. Then choose the correct answers.

Hi Grandma,

I'm just writing you a quick email because today is my day off. As you know I've been down here in the Antarctic for three months now! Everyone on the team has been really kind, especially Dr. Klinski. He's kind of my boss but he's really friendly. When I first arrived he told me I was going to love the lifestyle down here, and you know what? He was right! Because it's the summer the sun never sets – which is pretty strange and exciting. And at the moment it's not really that cold where we are.

We work about five hours a day. And work is basically going out cutting holes into the sea ice, and then doing our experiments. It's an amazing experience to be out there working, the complete silence and the beauty of the landscape is incredible. Last week I had a chance to go diving with the zoologists. They are here studying the seals. We swam around under the ice, the sounds of the seals' mating calls were amazing, very ghostly and strange.

Anyway, I'd better go, we're having a party tonight with the Russian guys here, and I'm going to help with the cooking.

Hope you are well,

Eddie

SPEAKING*PART 5

Imagine you are Michelle. Your dinner guests, Mike and Dawn, have just arrived at your house, but your husband, Gary has not arrived yet. Gary just called you to say that he would be late. Explain the situation to Mike and Dawn using the information that Gary told you below. Use indirect speech.

- “I’m stuck in the snowstorm.”
- “It’s absolutely freezing out there!”
- “The snow is so heavy I can’t drive on the road.”
- “We have to wait for an hour or so.”
- “I’ll call you in half an hour to let you know what’s going on.”
- “You guys shouldn’t worry, I’ll be home soon!”

WRITING*PART 6

Use the three excerpts below to write a summary of the different views on the question of melting sea ice in the Antarctic.

- Dr. Miles Dewar (2012): “ “Our data on fur seals in the Antarctic Ocean shows that their numbers are decreasing at a very fast rate. Our research shows that the decrease in population is a result of melting sea ice. We predict that the population of Antarctic fur seals will continue to fall for the next 10 years.”
- Professor Jennifer Adamson (2014): “Our recent study (2013) has shown that Dewar’s study on the Antarctic Seal population (2012) was overly pessimistic. Our findings show that the decrease in seal population is a result of lacking seal food supplies.”
- Dr. Hans Klinski (2016): “Though Adamson’s work has shown serious problems with Dewar’s 2012 study, we have also found a number of serious problems with Adamson’s research methods in her team’s 2013 report. We recommend a new study including the effects of climate change on the seal population.”
