Darcey Bussell

Most people in the UK know Darcey Bussell today because she was a judge on the popular TV dance show, Strictly Come Dancing (the UK version of Dancing with the Stars). But she was also a very talented ballet dancer.

She was born in London in April in 1969 to an Australian father and a British mother. She lived in London with her family. Her parents separated when she was just three years old and her father moved back to Australia. Darcey got married in 1997 and the family moved to Australia in 2008 but returned in 2012. These days, she lives in London with her husband and two daughters.

When Darcey started ballet, she was five years old and at first found it boring. She said she spent a lot of class time lying under the piano. But she started to enjoy it and went to many different London dance schools in her teenage years. When Darcey was still in school, a choreographer, Kenneth Macmillan, saw her. He thought her skill was amazing and gave her a leading role in his ballet. After this performance, she joined the Royal Ballet and became principal dancer there when she was very young. She was only 20 years old! In her 20-year career, she played 80 different roles like Princess Aurora in Sleeping Beauty and the Sugar Plum Fairy in The Nutcracker.

So she can dance. But she can also do other things. Many famous photographers took pictures of her for magazines like Vogue and Vanity Fair. In 2009, she joined Strictly Come Dancing. People saw her when they watched TV on Saturday nights. She wasn't only famous for people who liked ballet. Now millions of people all over the world knew her. Her writing started in 2008 with a series called Magic Ballerina. The books are about a young girl who finds out that her shoes have magic powers. In 3 years, 23 different Magic Ballerina books were published.

B Read the blog post about family time. Match the questions (1–5) to the answers (a–f). An example (0) has been done for you.

Spending Time with Family

When I was a child, I loved doing so many things. I played the trumpet, spent time with my friends, did my boring homework and still had time to watch TV. We ate dinner as a family around the table at six o'clock when my dad got home from work and sometimes played a board game before bed. We didn't frequently go on vacation and that was OK. It wasn't easy to find the money for a five-person family to go on a beach vacation in Florida. When we were lucky, it was a camping vacation in North Carolina. But it wasn't great when it rained.

Now I'm a teacher with a family. I have three beautiful children. We are always busy. I enjoy spending time with them but this is difficult to find. I teach all day and grade homework all night. On weekends if I'm lucky, I read the newspaper or buy myself and the children some new T-shirts or school shoes when we're at the store. We can go on beach vacations every year. Buying plane tickets and booking hotels online is cheap and easy, not like it was 20 years ago. And we have a great time. The weather is usually amazing and we play tennis, jump in the ocean with a snorkel or go sightseeing.

The difference between now and then is this. I was happy in the past and that's the same now. But now, because many parents spend eight hours a day working, family time is short – the time we relax all together is great, but it's usually just two weeks a year. In my childhood, life was simple but there was more communication every day. When I can I try to get everyone around the table for a game. It's difficult to do but it's a lot of fun when you can!
