Important interview tips

Your CV has got you in the door; now it's time to convince the interviewer you're the best person for the job.

Research the company

Do your homework so you don't give the impression you're looking for any old job. Search the internet and read not only the company's website, but also any news stories that come up. Make a list of points you could discuss at the interview and questions you could ask. You want your potential future employer to believe that you have a genuine interest in working for the organization.

Dress smartly

The company's dress code should give you an idea of what to wear at the interview, but in most cases, you will be expected to look the part. However, it is not only your clothes you must watch. Think about your body language: do you usually slouch or sit up straight in a chair, or do you sometimes fiddle with a pen? Practise before the day so that you have time to replace any bad habits with positive body language.

Mind your manners

When you get to the interview venue, make sure you greet everyone you meet, including the people in the lift. Offer the interviewer a warm greeting and say 'please' and 'thank you' when appropriate. Not only do you want to show that you would be an invaluable team member, but you also want the interviewer to pick you out when there may be other candidates who are equally qualified for the job.

Give real examples

You won't be the first candidate the interviewer has met, so you need to stand out from the competition. When you are asked about your abilities and experience, steer clear of typical answers such as 'I have great communication skills' or 'I'm a people person'. Instead, give real examples of situations where you have demonstrated these qualities and brought about a positive result.

Ask the right questions

Towards the end of the interview, you will be invited to ask your own questions about the job. You'll have that list you put together beforehand, but the points on it may already have been covered. Even if the interviewer has been very thorough, you must ask a few questions. This is where your initial research about the company will come in handy.

The Bermuda Triangle

During the 1960s and 70s, many stories were told of ships and aircraft disappearing mysteriously in a region of the Atlantic Ocean known as the Bermuda Triangle. People asked, '[1]_____ is causing these boats and planes to disappear?', and several [2]_____ reasons were given to explain the mystery. Some writers wondered [3]_____ aliens had established an underwater base and were hijacking aircraft to study their crew. Others said that enormous waves might be hitting vessels, causing them to sink without a [4]_____. However, nobody asked the question of whether there really [5]_____ any mystery to explain. Journalist Larry Kusche was the first person to do this. He asked questions about the mysterious disappearances which previous writers [6]_____. These writers had simply collected stories that had already been written and repeated them in their own way. Kusche found many mistakes in their stories: in some cases, there was no record of the ships and planes that were said to have been lost, and in others, they had disappeared during [7]_____ bad storms. Kusche pointed out that it was logical that more accidents would occur in the busy Bermuda Triangle than in more [8]_____ areas such as the South Pacific because the more ships there are in an area, the [9]_____ it is for one of them to sink. In the end, Kusche concluded that the explanation for the Bermuda Triangle [10]_____ was neither aliens nor massive waves, but the lack of research done by writers in search of a sensational story.

So you want to be an actor?

Many people think that acting [1]____ easy. That might be because, on a surface level, the only thing actors need to do is remember their lines and say them to the camera. People say, 'I [2]____ be an actor, if I could memorize words easily.' However, nobody would expect to become a professional singer overnight. In general, most people think that becoming a [3]____ requires far more training than appearing on-screen.

In fact, it takes just as much training to be a good actor [4]____ it does to become an opera singer. The difference is that an actor has to learn [5]____ naturally so that the audience doesn't [6]____ that he or she is acting. According to the famous teacher Stanford Meisner, 'Acting is behaving truthfully under imaginary circumstances.'

If a person [7]____ to become a successful actor, they have to learn how to bring a script to life. From the moment he or she receives the pages, an actor will [8]____ for action in the lines in order to make choices about his or her performance. It's true that the writer wrote the words, but it's the actor who creates a believable character to express them.

In conclusion, it is impossible to decide spontaneously one day to go and get an acting job. The naturalness of an actor's performance might make you [9]____ that anyone who can read or speak can be one. However, it's more than likely that it [10]____ them many years of training to get where they are now.

Irène and Ève Curie:
the scientist and the journalist

Nearly [1] everyone _____ knows the names of scientists Marie and Pierre Curie because of the Nobel Prizes they won. However, [2] _____ people are unaware that the couple also had two talented daughters, Irène and Ève. [3] _____ sisters received the same education, but they each pursued a completely different career.

Irène followed in the footsteps of her parents. She began assisting her mother during the First World War, when she was only 18. The two women used some of the first X-ray machines to help doctors locate the exact position of soldiers' injuries. At the time, people had [4] _____ idea of the dangers posed by the machines, and nurses who used them didn't wear [5] _____ protection. As a result, Irène and her mother were exposed to large doses of radiation and [6] _____ of them lived to a very old age.

In 1924, Irène was asked to share her research techniques with a chemical engineer named Frédéric Joliot. They started going out together, but Marie was afraid that Joliot was only interested in becoming associated with the Curie name. She used [7] _____ her influence to try to end the relationship, but Irène took [8] _____ of her advice, and the couple later married. Irène and her husband continued working together, and in 1935 they too were awarded a Nobel Prize.

Ève Curie, on the other hand, preferred the arts and spent most of her time [9] _____ writing or playing the piano. She worked as a journalist and wrote her mother's biography Madame Curie, which was published in 1937. Her husband, Henry Richardson Labouisse, was Executive Director of UNICEF, and when the organization was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1965, he collected the award. Ève used to joke that [10] _____ member of her family had received a Nobel Prize except for her.

Irène Joliot-Curie died in Paris in 1956 at the age of 58. Ève Curie was 102 when she passed away in New York in 2007.

Five words that made history

At the 2018 Golden Globe Awards, actress and TV presenter Oprah Winfrey was awarded the Cecil B. DeMille Award for lifetime achievement. Here is an extract from the memorable speech she made during the award ceremony.

In 1964, I was [1]____ little girl sitting on the linoleum floor of my mother's house in [2]____ Milwaukee, watching Anne Bancroft present the Oscar for Best Actor at [3]____ 36th Academy Awards. She opened the envelope and said five words that literally made [4]____ history: '[5]____ winner is Sidney Poitier.' Up to the stage came [6]____ most elegant man I had ever seen. I remember his tie was white and, of course, his skin was black. And I'd never seen [7]____ black man being celebrated like that. And I have tried many, many, many times to explain what [8]____ moment like that means to a little girl, a kid watching from the cheap seats as my mom came through the door, bone tired from cleaning [9]____ other people's houses. But all I can do is quote and say that [10]____ explanation's in Sidney's performance in Lilies of the Field, 'Amen, amen. Amen, amen.'

4 PRONUNCIATION pausing and sentence stress

a 10.2 Listen to a talk about an interesting place to visit. Mark the pauses.

Good morning, and thank you for coming. I'm here to talk about an interesting place to visit in my country. I'm going to tell you about the city of Bath in the south-west of England. Bath is on the River Avon, and it has one of the only bridges in the world with shops on either side. The city is famous for its ancient Roman Baths, which can still be visited today. It has many beautiful streets, such as the Royal Crescent and the Circus. Bath is full of museums, independent shops, and wonderful places to eat and drink. The city is easily accessible from London by train, and it is perfect for a day trip or a weekend break.

b Practise giving the talk, pausing and trying to get the right rhythm.

c Now write your own talk about an interesting place to visit in your country. Mark the pauses.

d Read your speech. If you can, record it on your phone and send it to your teacher.
